

CS510 Languages and Low Level Programming: Portfolio submission, Topic 9

Due on June 3, 2016 at 11:59pm

Mark P. Jones Spring 2016

Konstantin Macarenco

Topic 9. Illustrate the use of a range of domain specific languages in the development of systems software.

System software development involves broad knowledge in many areas of expertise, such as understanding target hardware, ... Domain specific language are computer languages specialized for a specific domain.

Domain Specific Languages used in this class to work on objectives and labs: Makefile, Linker (ELF), Assembly, C. All these languages, except C are used in narrow Grub